

ANDHRA PRADESH emerges as ROLE MODEL

Andhra Pradesh has been galloping ahead on the road to progress and prosperity at incredible speed in the last four years. Dr. Y. S. Rajasekhara Reddy who took over as Chief Minister in May 2004 acted swiftly to arrest the then deteriorating economic situation. He came to the rescue of desperate farmers by offering them free power and waiving their power bill arrears. He came up with new industrial and investment policy attracting investors.

The multi-pronged programme for comprehensive development of the state is now showing results:

- ▶ AP's IT growth rate tops that of the nation.
- ▶ Andhra Pradesh today stands second in the country in attracting investments in manufacturing.
- ▶ It records an all-time high food production.
- ▶ AP women SHGs are the biggest beneficiaries of bank loans in the entire country.
- ▶ It has become a pioneer in building homes for weaker sections, providing work (NREGS), making costly surgeries accessible and granting pensions to the poor.

With double-digit growth AP overtakes Nation

For the first time since Independence, Andhra Pradesh has entered into an era of double-digit growth with the current year (2007-08) expected to witness 10.37% growth. The growth rates in agriculture, industry and services are all higher than national growth rates. The Annual Plan outlay of Rs.30,013 crore for 2007-08 is the highest for any State.

IT's growth, a record in the country

That IT accounts for 52 per cent of overall exports from Andhra Pradesh testifies to its spectacular growth. AP registered a growth of 48.44% in IT exports during 2006-07, against the national growth rate of 32%. The IT sector is destined to sparkle further with the Government of India sanctioning 40 IT Special Economic Zones (SEZ) to AP - the highest number for any State.
