

ARTS

Loyola College, Chennai, with emphasis on inter-disciplinary approach to social sciences retains its top slot while Fergusson College, Pune and Stella Maris College, Chennai elbow their way into the the toppers' list

TOP >>> 10 COLLEGES

2008

2007 2006

1	Loyola College, Chennai	1	3
2	St. Xavier's College, Mumbai	4	1
3	St. Stephen's College, Delhi	2	5
4	Presidency College, Kolkata	6	2
5	Lady Shri Ram College for Women, Delhi	3	4
6	Christ College, Bangalore	8	-
NEW 7	Fergusson College, Pune	-	8
8	Madras Christian College, Chennai	9	-
9	St. Xavier's College, Kolkata	5	6
NEW 10	Stella Maris College, Chennai	-	-

National rankings are derived from a combination of perceptual and factual scores. Colleges that did not provide factual information were not ranked.
* New entrants in the Top 10. (-) Not ranked in the Top 10.

■ By S. Senthil Kumar

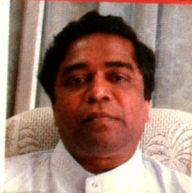

Loyola College, Chennai, seems to have done it again as it maintains its numero uno position in the arts stream in this year's college survey. Though there has been some shuffle among the best names in the rest of the positions, the top 10 remain more or less steady with two colleges—Fergusson, Pune (up from No. 13) and Stella Maris, Chennai (up from No. 11) breaking into the first 10 listings. With its perceptual score improving, St. Xavier's, Mumbai, has moved to the No. 2 position. It is the same with St. Stephen's, Delhi, which, though ranked at No.2 perceptually, is low on factual scores, with its overall rank slipping to No. 3. The biggest drop, of course, has been for St. Joseph's College, Bangalore, which has fallen from seventh rank last year to 15th this year.

Back to the topper, things couldn't be better for 83-year-old Loyola. As a beaming Father Albert Muthumalai, principal of the college for the past four years says, it is evident that the arts department settles for nothing but the best. It is as if the department keeps raising the bar after setting high precedents for itself, which include a place in the Guinness Book of World Records

PRINCIPAL SPEAK

FATHER ALBERT MUTHUMALAI, LOYOLA COLLEGE, CHENNAI

"THE ARTS DEPARTMENT IN our college settles for nothing but the best. We keep raising the bar every year."