

COMMERCE

For the 12th year in a row, Delhi's Shri Ram College of Commerce retains its top slot, while St Xavier's, Kolkata, moves to No. 3 and Stella Maris, Chennai, enters the elite group of toppers at No. 10

TOP 10 COLLEGES

2008		2007	2006
1	Shri Ram College of Commerce, Delhi	1	1
2	Loyola College, Chennai	3	3
3	St Xavier's College, Kolkata	4	4
4	Lady Shri Ram College for Women, Delhi	2	7
5	Symbiosis Society's College of Arts & Commerce, Pune	7	6
6	Christ College, Bangalore	5	-
7	Presidency College, Chennai	8	9
8	Madras Christian College, Chennai	6	-
9	St Joseph's College, Bangalore	9	8
NEW 10	Stella Maris College, Chennai	-	-

National rankings are derived from a combination of perceptual and factual scores. Colleges that did not provide factual information were not ranked.
 * New entrants in the Top 10. (—) Not ranked in the Top 10.

■ By Shruti Maheshwari

No surprises here. Delhi's Sri Ram College of Commerce (SRCC) seems unshakeable from the top slot, having maintained its hegemony for the 12th year in a row. The movement of the other colleges has been more or less static in the top 10. However, that is not to say that there have been no great gainers or losers. Stella Maris, Chennai, has broken into the top 10, overthrowing Delhi's Hansraj College which is now at No. 14. H.R. College of Commerce and Economics, Mumbai, has gained seven slots to rise to 15. Among those which are being featured for the first time in the hallowed circles of excellence are Jyothi Nivas College, Bangalore, at number 19, Bharati Vidyapeeth College, Pune, at 28, followed by M.S. Ramaiah College of Arts, Science and Commerce at 29. Two new entrants from Delhi University—Gargi College at 35 and Ramjas at 41—are some of the prominent movers. Others are Women's Christian College, Chennai, at 38, Sheshadri College of Bangalore at 42 and Maharaja College, Kochi, at 46.

SRCC Principal P.C. Jain is anything but sanguine about his record for the highest number of 'No. 1s' in the commerce stream in INDIA TODAY's Best Colleges survey. If anything, it's a source of anxiety that keeps a worried principal on his toes. Just back from Guwahati where he was sent to by Prime Minister Manmohan Singh to supervise setting up of commerce colleges, he says, "Last year, I toured commerce colleges around the country to see if I could pick up anything from them and improve in any way. It's not easy to stay on the top once you've reached there." Back home, the college governing body will be pumping in Rs 50 crore over the next two years to provide some enviable infrastructure—a wi-fi-enabled campus, air-conditioned classrooms equipped with LCD screens, laptops for students, a new hostel for girls, even sensors in the toilets to prevent loss of water. To make all this possible, some star alumni like Arun Jaitley, Jyotsna Suri, Pramod Bhasin, Analjit Singh, Atul Punj and Rajiv Memani are donating a minimum of Rs 6 lakh each.

If that doesn't make SRCC the toast of the Delhi University, there's more. To begin with, a Rs 23-crore stadium is being constructed in the back lawns, courtesy the Commonwealth Games fund. To make the most fundamental difference to teaching and learning experience, the distinguished faculty includes G.K. Ahuja and V.K. Singhania who make more than Rs 1 crore each in consultancy every year. Others like V.K. Kapoor, Dr C.V. Gupta and J.R. Monga are among the many who make

PRINCIPAL SPEAK P.C. JAIN, SRCC, DELHI

"WE ARE SERIOUS ABOUT QUALITY and want to create our own model institution which sets a benchmark for others."