

Let me tell you the story
of my little baby girl.

Her name is Moolchand.

Our daughter was born on 15th of July, 2006 in New Delhi. The tears that flowed from our eyes were not of joy. But of despair. Of grief. For, our little one had little chance of survival. She was born 3 months premature with severe complications at a leading South Delhi corporate hospital. We didn't know what to do. Until we were referred to Moolchand.

Moolchand's Neonatology team gave our baby something no other hospital could, a chance of survival. A new lease of life. They refused to take a rupee from us. They said, it's all part of Moolchand's Seva Initiative.

Today she is a bubbly toddler and we affectionately call her 'Moolchand Baby'. We also call her Sia. She is a year and a half old.
