

REALTY || NAVARASA ||

Year 2007 has seen many facets of the booming and blooming real estate market in India.

With giant amusement parks springing up in the metros, ever-soaring home loans, upcoming Special Economic Zones, growing trend of integrated townships promising luxurious living, and the central government welcoming foreign investments, our metro-cities have lots to talk about when it comes to the realty sector.

We underline the nine most remarkable trends in Indian realty, by way of the nine rasas - the essence of emotions, that deeply affect metro dwellers...
