Attainment of Cupid or amatory feelings; a climax of emotion

From stylish modern living room, to modish kids' rooms to voguish kitchens... we guide you how to transform your house into a gracious retreat that celebrates love, passion and harmony.

LOVE-LY ABODE

Does any room of your house suddenly make you feel bored, deflated, or maybe even a little depressed? Your own home should never make you feel down, it should be an uplifting place that reinvigorates you. Beautiful and scenic homes are oasis for the body, mind and spirit.

If you've got home blues then it's time for a re-do. Not all re-dos need to be elaborate renovations. Sometimes just a few interior decorating touches can refresh your home and your mood. Mix and match the following tips to create a new look that makes you smile.

GET RID OF THEM ALL: Take down all of your knickknacks, photos, artwork, plants, lamps, blankets and pillows. Everything must go except the expensive anchor pieces that you have no intention of replacing. Having a blank canvas lets you create your masterpiece.

UPDATE MEMOIRS: Replace dated photos with newer shots; select something that reflects the season or the mood you want to portray. Try your hand at painting. An abstract painting with bright, splashy colours instead of a traditional country scene takes your room in a brand new direction and sets the stage for more decorating risks. If you're not quite ready to replace old artwork and photos, try a new arrangement.

UPHOLSTER BEAUTY: Fabrics can be a pricey investment. But, if you're a good shopper, you can scoop up incredible deals. Even if you can't find the deals, an investment in new fabrics is still a relatively inexpensive way to spice up your home. Fabrics to replace include slipcovers, window treatments, throw pillows and blankets, area rugs and bedding. When replacing a fabric, try something entirely different in terms of designs and colours.

PAINT YOUR HEART OUT: Try a new colour to bring out subtleties in your room that normally get lost. Warm up a room and add oomph by using a dark colour. If you don't want to commit, how about just painting an accent wall?

EN-LIGHTEN THE AIR: Lighting is dramatic. To give your room a re-do with lighting, get new lamps, something dramatically different, and put them in new locations. Maybe you even want to add new light features to some artwork or backlight your bookshelves or furniture.

SHUFFLE THE ARRANGEMENT: Rearranging your furniture not only gives your room a fresh, new look but also changes your perspective when you're using that furniture. It can also change the room's traffic flow, which adjusts the attitude the room emits.

These quick fix tips are the most cost-efficient ways to rejuvenate your house. When combined with a couple of other tricks as per your individual taste and requirement, you'll have made a remarkable transformation to the look of your abode. Just try and stun yourself with the marvellous difference, you would simply fall in love with.
