

BORN AGAIN

BECAUSE he has proved yet again that he never gives up. Because he managed to raise Rs 11,600 crore and get the Reliance Power issue oversubscribed by 73 times. Because when the market crashed, he didn't blame circumstances but shelled out 5 per cent of his own equity to make good the notional loss suffered by shareholders. Because he has taken the group market capitalisation to $85 billion. Because he has ramped up the subscriber base of Reliance Communications to over 30 million within a year. Because he is the biggest player in the financial sector, with his company managing assets of over Rs 80,000 crore. Because he is the largest FM player in the country. Because his significant investments in entertainment's smartest companies, from Adlabs to ND Studios to Synergy Adlabs, are considered loose change. Because George Soros's 3 per cent stake has already given Reliance Entertainment a valuation of over $3 billion.

LITTLE KNOWN FACT:

He couldn't walk even one km on the treadmill when he was 105 kg.

IS PROUD THAT:

His group manages over 100 million consumers, by far the largest number, across various fields.

LOVES TO: Eat spicy, tear-inducing food.

WILL NOT LEAVE HOME WITHOUT:

Touching mother Kokilaben's feet.

SCREENSAVER ON

HIS PHONE: A picture of his late father Dhirubhai Ambani.

HOT WINGS:

Falcon 2000.

COOL WHEELS: A custom-made Mercedes.

HOST WITH THE

MOST: Serves vegetarian Italian with the premier Bordeaux wine, Chateau Margaux, at wife Tina's 50th birthday party at their Altamount Road home.

HE IS SET TO BECOME A SERIOUS INFRASTRUCTURE PLAYER, WITH TWO OF THE THREE BIGGEST POWER PROJECTS IN THE COUNTRY TODAY, THE MUMBAI TRANS HARBOUR LINK AND THE DELHI AIRPORT METRO EXPRESS.