CORE KINGS

BECAUSE with investments worth Rs 20,000 crore in new projects this year, they are emerging as the infrastructure emperors of the country. Because the Rs 7,500 crore Mumbai airport modernisation project looks all set to be completed in time. Because not only are they developing two SEZs but they have also reorganised their business in power, airports, roads and mining to be among the largest infrastructure developers valued at about Rs 10,000 crore. Because GVK Bio, their first non-infrastructure venture, has become India's leading contract research organisation.

REAL ESTATE

WATCH: Acquired a captive coal block in Jharkhand to meet the fuel requirements of their 600 MW power project in Punjab.

SMART GUY MOVE:

Supporting 14 tennis players, including Sania Mirza, with a budget of Rs 1.75 crore.

RONNIE SCREWVALA

50, MEDIA BARON (NEW)

CENTRE STAGE

BECAUSE he is the only Indian producer who can sign on Manoj Night Shyamalan as director, Will Smith as production partner, and Chris Rock as actor. Because the world media has suddenly started taking notice of him, calling him everything from the Jack Warner of India to the Engelbert Humperdinck of Mumbai. Because having managed to buy back his company's independence from NewsCorp, Walt Disney's buyout of Hungama for Rs 135 crore and acquisition of a 32.1 per cent stake in UTV for Rs 800 crore has given him a war chest to expand, allowing him to pick up two high-end gaming companies. Because he has launched three new channels and has two more to go this year.

BEST KEPT SECRET: His real name is Rohinton. He shortened it to Ronnie to "distract everyone from Screwvala".

COOL NEW FRIEND: His golden Labrador, Sprite.

NEW TOY: "Mickey Mouse".

THE BIG ACQUISITION: A personal trainer.
