

up

Photo: ISHAN TANKHA. Model: Kunka Devi. Location: Mumbai. 2008. Reprinted with permission.

Rahul Reddy

USP Usage of traditional printing as well as embroidery with a non-traditional aesthetic.

showing on March 14 on the ramp.

ABOUT THE DESIGNER

Reddy, 29, graduated from the National Institute of Fashion Technology in 2001 and did a one-year course at the London College of Printing. He then set up base in New Delhi and went on to assist designer Rajesh Pratap Singh for over three years. In 2005, Reddy opened his own studio and christened his label RAHUL REDDY, which is available at major fashion stores across India. "The collection for the Fashion Week is a leisurely one influenced by an imaginary girl. I have used muted tones and fabrics such as cotton, wool, silk and taffeta," he says.

Ankur and Priyanka Modi

USP Aiming for the subtle. Look for hour-glass shapes and sexy silhouettes in dark hues.

Can be seen In their stall everyday.

ABOUT THE DESIGNERS

Ankur Modi, 31, and his wife, Priyanka, 30, (with model in black) started their label AM:PM in 2002. The young couple has worked together as a dynamic team, complementing each other's skills and areas of expertise. Feminine colours, pure fabrics and neat cuts, brewed with an attention to detail, subtle or strong prints and effective embellishments, make their designs wardrobe-worthy. For the Fashion Week, their collection is about hour-glass shapes and sexy silhouettes in dark hues. "It is a futuristic line," says the couple.

ISHAN TANKHA