

Take Two

In his first film Himesh Reshammiya found love in the teenaged Hansika Motwani. For his forthcoming film Mudh Mudh Ke Na Dekkh Mudh Mudh Ke, he will be wooing the young model Jennifer Kotwal. The pretty Parsi girl is an ad film regular and has won accolades for her role in the Kannada flick Jogi. "I have been doing ads so far. Movies just happened by fluke and now I am known for my energy and dancing skills," she says.

FOREIGN LINKS

Sivaji heroine Shriya Saran, has not only bagged Ashok Amritraj's film Other End of the Line opposite Jesse Metcalfe, but has also signed on Deepa Mehta's What's Cooking. "The moment I heard the script, I fell in love with the intriguing character. This film is teaching me a totally different approach to acting," gushes the 24-year-old actor who now anxiously awaits the release of Mission Istanbul.

Age No Bar

Prithvik Roshan and Aishwarya Rai may have stolen all the limelight in Jodhaa Akbar but the Ashutosh Gowariker-directed film also marks the debut of Abir Abar, niece of yesteryear actor Kum Kum. "Even after the audition, Ashutosh felt I was too young for this character who is torn between her husband and her brother," says the 22-year-old who grew up in Bangalore. But her persistence paid off and Gowariker finally gave Abar her first break.

AY CARAMBA!

It's a role that was offered to Sonam Kapoor and model Bruna Abdullah according to reports. Kapoor turned it down because it required too many dare-to-bare scenes. Rakesh Roshan has now finally signed 30-year-old Latin-American actress Barbara Mori for his film Kites, opposite son Hrithik Roshan. "The character is a Spanish woman and we have been searching for five months," says Roshan senior. The film is being directed by Anurag Basu and also stars Kangana Ranaut.
