

THE KING'S EMPIRE

Movies

Biloo Barber, Rab Ne Bana Di Jodi, My Name is Khan

After failing to get two prestigious films off the ground, and not being able to kick start Don 2 earlier than April next year, he is now doing 15 days of work in Priyadarshan's Biloo Barber, starting Aditya Chopra's Rab Ne Bana Di Jodi on May 15, and then shooting for Karan Johar's post-9/11 political film My Name is Khan towards the end of the year. His reported fee for Rab Ne Bana Di Jodi is Rs 15 crore. In Biloo Barber, a Rs 20-crore Red Chillies comedy, Shah Rukh plays a superstar while Irfan is a barber claiming to be his friend. Kareena Kapoor and Deepika Padukone are doing item numbers while Katrina Kaif appears as herself.

Red Chillies Entertainment

Films, Ad films, VFX

His production house is yet to make a successful film that does not star him. But it does make ad films now (again most starring him) and its subdivision redchillies.vfx has also engineered special effects for five films so far, Don and Chak De! India among them. Om Shanti Om has been its most successful production so far with a net revenue of Rs 86 crore. Shah Rukh has bought the IPL team through this company, which he set up after winding up Dreamz Unlimited, his production house with Juhi Chawla and Aziz Mirza.

ENDORSEMENTS

15 brands

According to Tam Media Research, Shah Rukh Khan endorsed the highest number of brands on television in 2007 (the number 21 includes sub-brands and social campaigns such as UNICEF and National Rural Health Mission). The celebrities who follow him are Amitabh Bachchan at 20, television actor Shweta Tiwari at 19, and cricketer Sachin Tendulkar at 17. Shah Rukh models for 15 brands at an estimated fee of Rs 5 crore every year.

TV SHOWS

Kaun Banega Crorepati 3, Kya Aap Paanchvi Pass Se Tez Hain?

He got Rs 65 lakh per episode of Kaun Banega Crorepati 3 (Rs 34 crore for 52 episodes) and the fee has jumped to Rs 1 crore per episode of Kya Aap Paanchvi Pass Se Tez Hain?, which will run for 36 episodes, so will earn him Rs 36 crore. While KBC 1 and KBC 2 got TRP averages of 14.13 and 11.14, respectively, by the time Shah Rukh's version was on the air in a more fragmented market, the average ratings had slipped to 6.8. The series earned Rs 200 crore.

LIVE PERFORMANCES

Foreign concerts, Stage shows

All his tours are handled by the Moranis of Cineyug Entertainment, who have produced films such as Damini. The brothers Morani (Mohamed, Karim and Ali) handle all his concerts, whether it was the two-hour live UTV Bindass concert this year or the Temptations World Tour of 2004 which earned a revenue of $15 million (Rs 61 crore).

IPL

Rs 300 cr investment in Kolkata Knight Riders

Shah Rukh Khan may joke that IPL chairman and old school chum Lalit Modi is the real owner of Kolkata Knight Riders but the actor and his partners Juhi Chawla and husband Jay Mehta have invested $75 million (Rs 300 crore) over a 10-year period in the team. The team's total expenses for the first year are $15.5 m (Rs 63 crore). In return, he gets $12.5 m (around Rs 50 crore) back from IPL from year one. He also gets money from sponsors Nokia, Reebok, Tag Heuer, Housing Development and Infrastructure Corporation and Belmonte.
