

■ Here life starts after sixty — Over the years HelpAge has reached out to the underprivileged elderly through its various services. From giving many elderly a home and a livelihood support, HelpAge has made them strong enough to start a new life, all over again. In an effort to contribute both financially and emotionally to the elderly, HelpAge India has come up with various programs which identify credible NGO's wanting to work in the field of age care. In addition to this, HelpAge had come up with an exciting range of greeting cards and stationery products, in collaboration with Archies. Archies designs, distributes and markets these greeting cards and stationery products, under the HelpAge name and the royalty generated from these goes a long way in benefiting the cause of the underprivileged elderly. Each time you buy a HelpAge card from Archies, you express your heartfelt emotions for the elderly. HelpAge India tied up with Archies for this special cause for the first time in 1989. The biggest player in the social expression category, Archies welcomed this thought of lending their support to the elderly. During the festive season, the shelves of every Archies Gallery have on display these beautiful and well crafted greeting cards and stationery products. Over the years these have become the most favoured greeting cards in their category. People feel a sense of pride in greeting their loved ones with these cards. They are happy to simultaneously express their love for their dear ones and the underprivileged elderly as well.
