

REUTERS

FOR PAPA NOW

For seven years Kareena Kapoor romanced onscreen heroes and danced a dozen times. But never once, under the guidance of her father. Finally she will be acting in a film produced by her family-run RK banner. While father Randhir Kapoor confirms her involvement in the project, he is tightlipped about her role. Since drama seems to be what Kareena is an expert at, it is believed that her movie will be a breezy, romantic flick. Watch out.

BHASKAR PAUL

No Na Na to Music

It's his powerful rendition of dialogues we've known and loved him for. But Nana Patekar packs a punch even when he sings. The veteran actor will rap alongside singer Sudesh Bhosle for Rakesh Sarang's Horn OK Please. "The song is sprinkled with tapori language and has a Marathi touch since Nana plays a Maharashtrian character. He has given it his own style," says music director Lalit Pandit who has made Aamir Khan and Sanjay Dutt sing in the past. Time to exercise his vocal cords.

THRILLER TURN

She was all set to marry Rishi Kapoor in the film Henna. But in real life Ashvini Bhave tied the knot with a software entrepreneur, moved to San Francisco and that was the last we heard of her for long. But now, after a 10-year hiatus, the actor has returned to produce a Marathi film, Kadachit. "It's the story of the trials and tribulations of a woman. I took up the offer since the subject has a universal appeal," says the mother-of-two, who also plays a neurosurgeon in this psycho-thriller. A thrilling return, eh?

Body of Work

Anarkali has a new taker. And it's none other than the sexy Mallika Sherawat. She might find it difficult to play the demure Madhubala but she's all set to star as a theatre artiste in Sanjay Chhel's comic-thriller Maan Gaye Mughal-e-Azam, and perform to the all-time favourite Jab pyaar kiya to darma kya. "This is not a remix of the song. We have used just a single line as a reference ensuring the original song is not distorted," says Chhel. Ask him if the bold and brash star will don a Madhubala look and all he says is, "It's too early to speak about her look. However, I guarantee that my audiences will be treated to a laugh riot."

REUTERS

Introducing Aashirvaad Rasmalai Mix.
Juicy melt-in-the-mouth Rasmalaís,
now available at home.