

BRIEF COURSE

She is creating quite a stir with her second Kingfisher swimsuit calendar appearance. But hot bod Shruti Agrawal, 25, has her sights set on the big prize—Bollywood. Having appeared in a music video with choreographer Ganesh Hegde, the half-Sikkimese beauty is now training to be an actor at Anupam Kher's academy. "Bollywood is definitely a bigger platform," says Agrawal. Well, we think she will do swimmingly well.

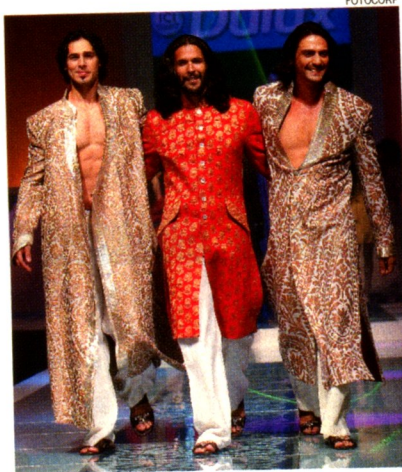

Familiar Route

While Ranbir and Sonam Kapoor's debut saw their star parents step out in support, the latest celebrity progeny to rely on pedigree power is Soha Ali Khan. Yesteryear's bombshell Sharmila Tagore happily did the reality show routine with daughter dearest. And while Soha's film Khoya Khoya Chand didn't quite rise to the occasion at the box office, Tagore managed to charm all, even managing a little jig on Sony's Jhalak Dikhhla Jaa. Parent trap, indeed.

TRESS TRAIL

The long and short of fashion were clearly on view at the 20th anniversary celebrations of fashion store Ensemble. For all those who thought long hair for men were so last season with John Abraham and M.S. Dhoni's shorn locks, here was a coiffure cue. Former super models Dino Morea (left), Milind Soman (centre) and Arjun Rampal walked the ramp for designer Rohit Bal and made a mean mane statement with their flowing locks. Tress chic, did you say?

Lola Unlimited

Behind her bespectacled and saree-attired television persona, VJ Anuradha Menon a.k.a. Lola Kutty is quite a chic dresser. But when the party circuit regular was spotted wearing a tacky outfit and a weird wig, many did a double take. However, Menon, 27, assures us it was only the debut of her new character Nightly Nita, one of Lola's sextuplets. With six different characters to portray, will the real Menon please stand up?
