

THE BUZZ OF THE WEEK

Congress leaders hastily cancelled their plans to leave Delhi after the Parliament session ended last week because of the impending Cabinet reshuffle which, like the party reorganisation, is likely to see younger faces.

VOICES

"The RSS had never been a guiding force. It is not and it will never be."

Rajnath Singh, BJP president

"No astrologer is needed to predict the direction in which India will move. The direction is early Lok Sabha polls. How early is the only unanswered question."

L. K. Advani, leader of the Opposition

"US President George Bush is himself not popular and only 30 per cent of the people support him. So why should we dance to his tunes?"

Prakash Karat, CPI(M) general secretary

"When (Pervez) Musharraf's misadventure failed miserably, this commando general came to me to get the (Kargil) war ceased at any cost."

Nawaz Sharif, former Pakistani prime minister

"We needed this (Twenty20) win. The way the World Cup 2007 went for us, this win will do some repair work, for the time being at least."

Mahendra Singh Dhoni, India cricket captain
