

Ahmedabad blasts. The conspiracy to plant the bombs in Gujarat was hatched at Wagamon camp and was carried forward into the Pavagadh camp.

At least nine SIMI activists from Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh and Maharashtra planted the bombs in Ahmedabad. It helped that they were not locals, making it difficult for them to be identified. They were assisted by a team of Gujarati SIMI workers. The reconnaissance was carried out by Iqbal and Qaimuddin Kapadia of Vadodara, who is absconding. One of the dry runs was carried out on July 14 when Ahmedabad observed a bandh on the Asaram Bapu issue.

The reconnaissance of the Ahmedabad Civil Hospital—where 36 people died in the blast—was also carried out by Iqbal while his father was in the same hospital for a surgery from June 23 to July 9. Iqbal had stayed at the hospital for three nights where he met Zahid, Samsuddin, Yunus and Agarbattiwala. They identified the spot where the car bomb would go off. It was Zahid who planted the car before walking away. Agarbattiwala played an additional role—his laptop was used by Tauqir to programme the IEDs in Surat which failed to explode due to a technical error.

police how parts of the bombs were assembled in a Vadodara house while the rest were put together in Bapunagar and Vatva area in Ahmedabad where Bashir and Tauqir had stayed. Forensic experts have confirmed traces of ammonium nitrate—used to make the bombs—in all the three houses.

Responsibilities in the operations were clearly earmarked. Yunus and Kagzi—who are experts in delivering jihadi speeches—were entrusted with organising and coordinating meetings of the core groups. The group held four core meetings between April and July. The last one was on July 20 at Zahid's house in Juhapura. Bashir did not attend the meeting as he is believed to have left Ahmedabad for Azamgarh around July 15 after finalising the blasts plan and leaving it to the executioners to carry it out. Tauqir reportedly left Ahmedabad on July 26 morning. Two of these meetings were held in Yunus's house in Bapunagar.

Zahid and Sajid carried out the planning and procurement of cycles and the materials for the bombs. Tauqir bought ammonium nitrate and timers for the bombs. Sajid was one of the main links between the executioners and the masterminds. Sleuths say he is the only one apart from Bashir and Tauqir who knows about
