

On the human network, learning goes beyond classrooms. Welcome to a place where an idea is created by one, tweaked by many and shared with the world. Where every answer is accessible to everyone, everywhere. And books are read where libraries don't exist. Where your favourite teacher could be the one you have never met. Like your best friend. The story continues at cisco.in/humannetwork welcome to the human network.

