

DOING INDIA PROUD

S P Jain a top rated B-School from India had set up a campus in Dubai in 2004. In just 4 years it is already the top ranked institution of higher learning as per an A C Nielsen Brand Audit survey* ahead of old established universities like American University of Dubai, Wollongong University of Australia and the British University. BITS, Pilani another leading college from India also finished in the top 10.

This validates the high quality of Indian education. Though Indian professors are to be found in all top universities across the world Indian institutes don't feature in global rankings. However, this seems to be changing as earlier this year Indian School of Business (ISB) came 15th in a FT ranking and now S P Jain gets ranked #1 in the whole of the U A E. For the survey 100 HR managers of leading local companies in Dubai, Abu Dhabi and Sharjah were interviewed and S P Jain stood first on all key parameters including its ability to attract topnotch students, quality of the curriculum and specializations offered and job opportunities post the program.

S P Jain was invited by the Government of Singapore to set up a campus there. The Ministry of Education honored S P Jain by according it a "University Status" looking to the high quality of the program offered. This elite recognition has been given to only two other international B Schools, University of Chicago and Insead from over 100 that operate in Singapore. Once again Indian education as represented by S P Jain has been considered world-class. S P Jain's Singapore campus has been in operation since 2006.

S P Jain's Global MBA program is a unique program that is an accelerated 1 year program that is conducted 6 months in Dubai followed by 6 months in Singapore. This gives participants an exposure to different business environments and cultures. Says Mr. Nitish Jain, President of S P Jain "Business management education is changing and needs to keep pace with the globalization we see all around us. Much of the learning happens outside the classroom when our students do projects for local companies and work in multinational teams. This coupled with talented and experienced professors from all over the world creates an environment hard to replicate in a totally Indian program and is the reason for us to set up international campuses. Currently, we have students from five different countries and within a year we expect this number to rise to fifteen."

Top name recruiters including Microsoft, Citibank and Accenture in Singapore and Abu Dhabi Investment Corporation, Emirates Bank and Hayes Consulting in the U A E are some of the top name recruiters to offer jobs to S P Jain's students who also get jobs in China, Malaysia, Qatar, Oman and Bahrain.

S P Jain claim based on research conducted by Nielsen UAE, field work dates → 12th May – 15th June 2008, sample size → 100, population details → HR Managers/Recruitment in-charge of leading corporate organisations
