■ CAMPUS

The learning environment contributes to creating a conducive frame of mind, so that a student can get the maximum benefit out of the rich course offering and the stimulating pedagogy of an institute. The theme governing the AIM campus design, is built around two key ideas. "World Class and State of the Art".

AIM is conveniently located near an upcoming district centre at Jasola in South Delhi & is well connected by road to the rest of the Delhi as well as Noida in UP and Faridabad in Haryana. It is close to a national highway & to the proposed Metro Rail station. Yet, being situated in a quiet institutional area, it is isolated from the disturbances and distractions of city life.

The campus is centrally air-conditioned. Spacious acoustically designed lecture theatres with LCD projectors & public address systems, facilitate course delivery through use of audio-visual inputs, from slide presentations to video clips & video lessons. Smaller groups can meet in equally comfortable but smaller & more intimate tutorial rooms. The campus is Wi-Fi enabled to permit wireless internet access from any point in range.

Major events and seminars are held in the 220 seat AIM Auditorium that has facilities comparable to any modern multiplex.

An open air auditorium that can seat up to 500 persons, is a recent addition.

Separate common rooms let the boys & girls unwind between classes, and the gymnasium helps them keep fit and healthy.

An open cafeteria supplies hot and hygienic snacks and lunch. It is well complemented by the new Amul Cool Corner.

■ FACULTY

The AIM's faculty includes a fine mix of core faculty with experience in academic as well as in industrial fields. The visiting faculty comprises of a unique blend of academicians, consultants and senior executives coming from diverse backgrounds. Together they provide a balanced set of inputs combining innovative ideas, theoretical rigor, conceptual clarity and practical relevance.
