

33% OF WOMEN IN AHMEDABAD DON'T MEET THEIR GIRLFRIENDS

How often do you have a get-together of female friends at home?

Never	22
Once a month	20
Less than once a month	16
Once a week	15
Twice a week	12
Once in a fortnight	10
Only when my husband is not around	4

How often do you have a get-together of male friends at home?

Never	18
Once in a month	18
Less than once a month	17
Once a week	15
Once a fortnight	14
Twice a week	12

*All figures in per cent.
Rest: Don't know/Won't say.*

Do you generally have morning tea in night clothes?

BUDDY TIME

Poker nights are out. The very Western concept of all male get-togethers is not common here. Only 5 per cent of men admitted to doing so, that too especially when their wives are away. Even for women it is the same story, with bigger cities like Mumbai (16 per cent) expectedly having more women who have such get-togethers.

Who is likely to have a better married life?

		MALE	FEMALE
Housewives	47	52	42
Working women	21	19	22
No difference	28	23	32

*All figures in per cent.
Rest: Don't know/Won't say.*

HOME RUN

Fifty two per cent men think that housewives have better married lives, but 48 per cent of working women do not think that it is true.

major objective of Ghurye's survey, for reasons that are not entirely transparent but which might have to do with demonstrating a potential correlation with immature marriage and higher infant mortality, was to determine the average gap between marriage and the beginning of conjugal sex-life. While almost 60 per cent of the couples initiated sexual relations in the first three months of marriage, the others (and, significantly, not just the immature couples among them) took their time—up to 14 years in one notable instance. In the present-day sample, by contrast, women were on an average 22 at marriage, their husbands being around three-and-a-half years older. In their case it is assumed that sexual relations had followed—in the natural