

We respect you.
We respect your money.

We are in the service industry and our primary responsibility is to provide our customers with world-class services. We understand that each customer's goodwill is invaluable to us.

Regarding collections of overdue, we follow stringent guidelines aimed at ensuring the quality of our customers' experience.

- If a customer misses a payment, we call to remind him. We record every outbound call made from our call center.

- We follow up the call with a gentle reminder letter.
- Our collection agents will treat all customers with respect and dignity. This guideline is incorporated in the code of conduct adopted by us and mandated to our collection agents.

Millions of customers have placed their trust in us and more continue to do so everyday. At ICICI Bank, we believe that it is our mission to live up to this trust. And the only way to do so, is by respecting each one of our customers.
