

Ferrari F430 Scuderia

VROOOOOOMMMM

Ferrari's expertise at the fore with sheer luxurious style. This prancing horse is for Ferrari's most committed customers and was unveiled by Michael Schumacher at the Frankfurt Motor Show in September. The Scuderia is a stripped down version of the 360 Challenge Stradale and weighs 100-kg less. With 510 BHP, you'll hit 62 mph in under three-and-a-half seconds, while the gear changes take less than 60 milliseconds. It combines the Formula 1 'F1-Trac' traction for heightened stability. This one is an ultimate dream machine.

PRICE: £150,000 (Rs 1.2 crore without import duty)

Aston Martin Rapide

RAPIDE FORCE

At a speed of 180 mph, the Rapide thrills. Its 6-litre V-12 engine has the same configuration as the original Lagonda Rapide built in 1961. The Rapide is being seen as Aston Martin's new challenge to the Bentley's Flying Spur, Maserati's Quattroporte and Porsche's Panamera. Practicality and power are the Rapide's signature qualities. This sleek four-door, four-seater is powered by a 5,935 cc engine with 480 bhp, zooming from zero to 60 mph in just five seconds. The Rapide is based on Aston Martin's VH high-strength, low-mass architecture.

PRICE: $200,000 (Rs 79 lakh without import duty)

SONYVAIO TZ

LET THERE BE LIGHT

The Vaio TZ, including the battery, weighs just 1,200 gm, making it a lot lighter than other laptops. It provides the luxury of free and easy mobility with full capability. Comes in a chic design. The 11.1-inch, 4.7-mm slim display comes equipped with a motion eye webcam. Has 1 GB of main memory (upgradable to 2 GB), an Intel Centrino Duo processor with a 100 GB HDD. High-tech user-friendly features include the new Windows Vista Business operating software. The body is made of tough and advanced carbon fibre.

PRICE: Rs 1.14 lakh

