MANAGING TOMORROW

S E R I E S

Date: January 11, 2008 at Taj Coromandel, Chennai

Why should business processes be integrated end-to-end across the company and what is the role of IT Innovation in successfully implementing the virtual workplace? How does it enable companies to respond with flexibility and speed to customer demands, market opportunities or threats? How can innovation help you match the right combination of technologies to your business needs, simplify your IT infrastructure to maximize business resilience?

NEC Presents Business Today Managing Tomorrow Series. Hear a high powered panel speak and deliberate on the theme 'Achieving Business Resilience through IT Innovation' and take part in an interactive session with the speakers.

Entry by Invitation only.
