MAKING A BOOKING

As Amitav Ghosh (left) returns with the first novel in a trilogy, the interpreter of immigrant maladies, Jhumpa Lahiri (below left) will delve deeper into the intricacies of family life with Unaccustomed Earth. A posthumous novel by Kamala Markandaya and Tarun Tejpal's much-awaited second are all set to make their way to the bestseller lists. And with books being made into films even before release, the written word will be back with a bang.

SLICK THRILLERS

Dhoom 2 was in 2005 but 2008 is not going to allow audiences to forget the smart bombers. In Abbas-Mustan's Race (below) and Vijay Acharya's Tashan, babes, bikes and boom boom guns will reinvent action.

TABLOID TWOSOMES

Bipasha and John, Saif and Kareena, Abhi and Ash. Our own Brangelinas will generate news, nasty natter and noise at the box office.

GET REAL

From Extreme Makeover to K For Kishore, reality shows will become television's new passion. Expect more Prashant Tamangs and Aneek Dhars.

STUNG BY STING

Sting journalism will become difficult with high court scrutiny and the I&B Ministry's crack-down, so expect more of snakes mating, monkeys biting and cars moving on their own.
