

PIYUSH PACHAK

“The agitation will not be confined to Rajasthan but will spread to other parts of the country if our demand is not met immediately.”

RAMBIR SINGH BIDHURI, GUJJAR LEADER

RAJIV SHARMA

ON THE WAR PATH

(Above) Gujjars, a tribal community in Rajasthan went on a rampage demanding Scheduled Tribe status; a new agitation is planned for 2008. (Left) In Punjab, supporters of Gurmeet Ram Raheem Singh, Sikh spiritual leader who heads Dera Saccha Sauda, also turned militant when he was criticised for offending the Sikh faith. His defiance, however, was short-lived.