

PAPER TIGERS

Contentious Bangladeshi author Taslima Nasreen's writings led to violent protests in Kolkata (right) and this was repeated in Hyderabad (below), where she was physically attacked. The Centre finally confined her to a safe house in Delhi where she continued to protest her situation.

SUBIR HALDER

"It is taking a toll on my life, I can't concentrate on my work. May be I will write a book on these experiences once I am released from here."
