

HEIR RAISING

Congress MP Rahul Gandhi at a roadshow for the assembly elections in western Uttar Pradesh in March. Despite his star presence, the party could only manage a measly 22 seats out of a total of 403. Rahul was finally given an official designation and an office but failed to live up to his political billing as heir to the dynasty. His dimpled smile and boyish charm did, however, attract the crowds but sadly, not the votes. 2008 will prove to be a make-or-break year for the young MP.

HEMANT CHAWLA

“Had the Gandhi family been there in politics, Babri Masjid demolition would not have taken place. My father said to my mother that he would stand in front of Babri Masjid. They would have had to kill him first.”

RAHUL GANDHI, CONGRESS GENERAL SECRETARY