■ STABILINE - All set to redefine, The Power Electronics Industry

What began as a passion in 1985 is leading enterprise, with a multicore turnover, today. STABILINE SYSTEMS is the brainchild of SATISH BAKSHI, a young and raring technocrat, who had a vision of establishing a world class power electronics company. Beginning with a dollar and a dream, as the saying goes, the company started off with manufacturing of automatic voltage stabiliser, graduating with time, into manufacturing of wide rather as a total power solution company. STABILINE'S products embrace servo voltage stabiliser up to 2000 KVA, online ups up to 10 KVA, line interactive UPS up to 5 KVA, constant voltage transformer (CVT) up to 10 KVA, inverter up to 5 KVA, besides manual voltage regulator, isolation transformer, high voltage break down tester, electronic air-conditioner protector, spike suppressor and buster. These are world class, environment friendly and better designed and priced. the other strengths of the company include a countrywide network with efficient and timely after sales service, an enviable and satisfied clientele, a progressive outlook, a dedicated R & D center and, of course, competent and qualified personnel. Presently the company has a healthy market share throughout India. An ISO 9001:2000 accreditation for the manufacturing plant achieved, eventually, a more from leadership in SERVO, UPS Systems to that in every product category, the company is in. and reiterating the corporate mission of "Leadership through innovation" always.
