

Construction Equipment Pioneer Comes to India

Vikram Sharma
President and CEO

Kobelco is a pioneer in Construction Equipment manufacturing, having produced the first piece of construction machinery – 50K electronic mining shovel – to be manufactured in Japan way back in 1930. The company has not looked back since then and developed many innovative Construction Machinery Products. To ensure a rapid response to changing needs, Kobelco Construction Machinery Co. Ltd., became an independent subsidiary of Kobe Steel in 1999. Through its comprehensive agreement with CNH, Kobelco can meet the wide ranging needs of customers throughout the world. The company has 3 manufacturing facilities in Japan, 2 in China and 1 each in USA, Italy and Thailand and manufactures upto 50,000 excavators annually.

Kenji Sakamoto
Managing Director

"Supported by a burgeoning demand driven by fast-paced infrastructural investment for improvement of roads, airports, seaports, and the power sector, the market for construction equipment in India is experiencing steady growth". "The demand is projected to expand even further over the coming years and this is the reason why we have ventured into India to bolster our sales and services in the country."

INDIAN OPERATIONS :-

In India, Kobelco has started sales through Kobelco Construction Equipment India Pvt. Ltd. (KCEI), a joint venture between Kobelco Construction machinery Co. Ltd., Japan and Itochu Corporation of Japan, from April 2007.

Kobelco Construction Equipment India Pvt. Ltd., introduced the latest "8 series" of Excavators, which are compliance to Tier 3 emission norms. This is a pioneering effort in the introduction of the most environment friendly, highly productive and fuel efficient range of machines. Currently the excavators are being imported as CBUs from Japan and company has achieved very great success in developing Kobelco's market for 20T, 35T and 48T Excavators. Through its dealer network in India, Kobelco has ensured that all the product support services are in place at 23 states well before the sale of the equipment. The dealer service teams have undergone Kobelco's service trainings. All dealers are providing product support facilities on Kobelco International guidelines to ensure global level support.
