

The Cross Voters

The UPA score would have been 251 but for the 24 MPs who defied their party whips

It was the readiness of several Opposition legislators to be with the UPA that made Prime Minister Manmohan Singh win the Confidence Vote easily. Unhappiness with state leadership, impact of delimitation, fast-changing political equations and a promise of a better future forced several MPs to go with the Government on the nuclear deal.

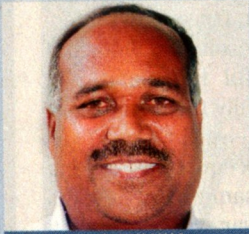

H.T. SANGLIANA, BJP

The Karnataka MP says that he voted for "power, nuclear power". Claims to have been ignored by BJP and is now tipped to get a Congress ticket from Mizoram.

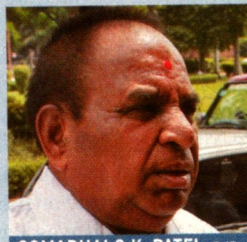

M.K. CHANNAPPA, BJP

Had been the Karnataka Congress chief with till 2004 before switching to BJP. Was not sure of getting a ticket. Claims to be "basically a Congressman".

MADAIIAH SHIVANNA, JD(S)

An old Congressman, the Mysore MP felt "there was no future with Deve Gowda". Says there is a Congress wave and is hoping for a ticket from the party.

SOMABHAI G.K. PATEL, BJP

Was unhappy with Narendra Modi and had been suspended for anti-party activities. The suspension was revoked, but the ploy did not work.

B.B. SHARAN SINGH, BJP

The Uttar Pradesh MP, once close to Rajnath Singh, was an easy target for SP. He claimed to have voted according to his conscience and in "national interest".

M. JAGANNATHAM, TDP

He cites Kalam's approval of the nuke deal and says that he voted according to his conscience. Party chief N. Chandrababu Naidu says he was only being greedy.

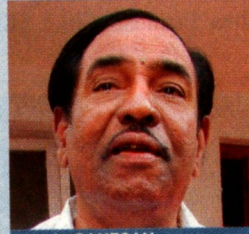

A. NARENDRA, TRS

Once close to BJP and against UPA, the Andhra Pradesh MP decided to vote in Government's favour after claiming to have got its assurance on Telangana.

RAMSWAROOP PRASAD, JD(U)

The Bihar MP was upset at being denied the Islampur assembly seat. He announced that he would "vote with Lalu's RJD and that more would follow".

L. GANESAN, MDMK

Expected to join the DMK soon, Ganesan says that Vaiko is no longer a force in Tamil Nadu. Defied the party whip to vote in favour of the Government.

G. RAMACHANDRAN, MDMK

He did not get along well with Vaiko. Consulted Karunanidhi later and "voted with the Government". Will be accommodated in the DMK.

BABUBHAI KHIMABHAI

KATARA, BJP, GUJARAT:

Arrested by Delhi Police in May 2007 on charges of human trafficking. The MP had been upset with the party. Apparently, Chief Minister Narendra Modi refused to meet him about his ticket.

P.P. KOYA, JD(U),

LAKSHADWEEP:

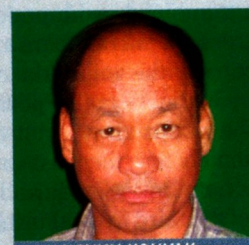

Apparently, the JD(U) MP had asked for leave of absence from the party. His party has not initiated any action against him for not being present as he had indicated he was not well.

TUKARAM RINGE PATIL,

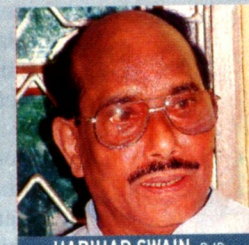

SHIV SENA, MAHARASHTRA:

The Sena MP is yet to be heard of or seen. Poached by Congress with an offer of a ticket, Patil did not attend the party meeting or the Parliament session. Indeed, the Shiv Sena is still on the lookout for him.

WANGYUH KONYAK, NPF

Though his party is in power in Nagaland in a coalition with NCP and BJP, and the Congress is the main Opposition, he was convinced by the UPA to vote for it.

HARIHAR SWAIN, BJD

The former Congress minister who joined the BJD in 2004, cast his vote in the Government's favour. Has been expelled from the party and promised a Congress ticket.
