

Here a king and his architects tried to play God.

Circa 1116. Rewind to Belur-Halebidu. King Vishnuvardhana builds a temple dedicated to Lord Chennakeshava. And how! Scenes from the great epics, celestial maidens, all came alive in stone. Movable pieces of jewellery and even glittering beads of sweat are hewn out of solid rock. It takes them over 100 years to attain perfection. And immortality. Today, 2 World Heritage Sites and scores of architectural wonders await you in Karnataka... With a thousand stories to share!
