Even if the financial sector is opened up, I don't think foreign banks will make a beeline to India.

S.A. BHAT
CMD, INDIAN OVERSEAS BANK

a low 0.43 per cent, compared to 1.02 per cent of Citibank and 1.43 per cent of Standard Chartered. Its return on assets at 1.54 per cent is the second highest among the top 10 big banks. The bank's strategy of expanding its portfolio of services has paid off handsomely, explains Kidwai.

The other consolidating trend that this year's study reveals is the growing improvement in the performance of large public sector banks. In fact, there are four PSU banks in the top 10 this year. What has happened is that the better-run PSU banks have managed to rein in their NPAs and focus on growth and efficiencies. ■
