DIGGING HIS OWN GRAVE 20

Pakistan plunges into a deepening crisis as President Musharraf declares emergency and virtual martial law. The latest move is an act of desperation that could have a major impact on India as well. An analysis of the General's options and the direction the country is headed into.

STATES: WEST BENGAL

Red Star Falling 40

It was his ability to balance the hardliners and the liberals in the party that saw Buddhadeb becoming the chief minister, but his popularity is on the wane.

BUSINESS&ECONOMY: CARBON TRADING

The Greener Side of Carbon 56

With emissions trading gathering steam and investment in cleaner technology becoming financially viable, companies are fast implementing eco-friendly systems of production.

SOCIETY&THE ARTS: CINEMA

Four Quartets 78

The maestro returns with an instant classic—after five years and wows by extracting fine performances from four talented actors.

SHANKAR

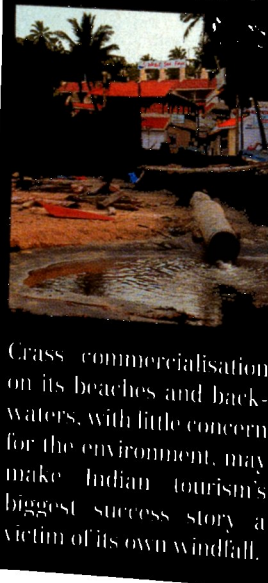

SOCIETY&THE ARTS: HERITAGE

Fall of the Citadel 82

Three faultlines running under the 12th century Jaisalmer Fort, a crisis-ridden sewage system and illegal constructions pose a threat to human life.

ENVIRONMENT: KERALA

Devil's Garden 64

Crass commercialisation on its beaches and backwaters, with little concern for the environment, may make Indian tourism's biggest success story a victim of its own windfall.
